THE 1956 GINKGO

CRAFTON HIGH SCHOOL YEARBOOK
CRAFTON, PENNSYLVANIA

FOREWORD

A year's Evaluation in Evaluation Year.

Once again the school year terminates, and the seniors go forth to take their places in the world of tomorrow. This was an evaluation year, and the GINKGO now tries to evaluate the senior class of 1956.

What purpose has our graduation fulfilled? The receiving of diplomas is only a token of the untold wealth of knowledge and good times reaped by our graduates.

As we cast aside our high school life and begin to view life in a new light, what memories of this wonderful year will we cherish forever? Perhaps some will remember the intoxicating gaiety of the Football Dance and the Junior Prom. Others, no doubt, will recall the break from the dull routine of lessons and books furnished by our clubs and other extra-curricular activities. Still others will never forget the classes themselves, the fast teacher-student exchange of opinions and the humorous notes that frequently brightened the school days.

But who of us will ever forget the evaluation—the anxiety of the teachers, the students, and the thrill of knowing that we had passed inspection with flying colors? Let us not be misled; let us not lose sight of the job ahead. Let us evaluate this school year ourselves and estimate the value of our achievements.

Read this book fondly. Laugh at the amusing recollections and feel sad at the sentimental ones. Live the year of 1956 over again through the pages of this book, and evaluate its importance in your life.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

The Board of Education is the nucleus of the Crafton School System. Its members, headed by Mr. John W. Byer, meet the second Monday of each month to smooth out all the difficulties that arise during the school year. Each decision by the board is made only after careful deliberation, committee investigation, and group discussions. How little the students know of the work that goes on in their behalf by these conscientious citizens of our community! In this year of evaluation we can be especially proud of the board's efforts to advance our school to a high rank in the state educational system.

We wish to extend our deepest appreciation to each and every member of the board for the time and hard work devoted to our schools.

MR. PAUL L. MAXWELL

Superintendent of Crafton Public Schools

We admire and respect our administration. Mr. Maxwell, a busy, efficient man, well-known for his broad smile and hearty laugh, has kept conditions in the district's four schools in tip-top shape. Mr. Gregory, our able principal, has counseled us firmly, yet kindly for he is the true friend of every student.

Yes, our "top brass" deserves praise for their unending patience and careful consideration in handling school matters

The new secretary, Mrs. Matlack, is willing and able to serve both Mr. Gregory and the students of Crafton High. The superintendent's secretary, Mrs. Ireland, has worked vigorously all year to aid Mr. Maxwell, thereby assisting the student body

Senior year! We finally made it! The most wonderful year of our high school career rushed past in a whirlwind of excitement and activity. We tried to cram everything we could into the short space of nine months and succeeded admirably, if not a little breathlessly.

As the "days left for seniors" rapidly diminished, we were the star performers on Student Government Day, Class Day and Baccalaureate; and we completely stole the show at graduation.

Now that graduation actually has arrived, we don't know whether to feel happy or sad. Our last year has ended abruptly. Our short reign as kings of Crafton High is over. But another phase of life is just beginning! We shall evaluate and be evaluated many times. We commence gladly, solemnly, proudly on our search for success.

Evaluation of goals directed juniors' efforts.

Never underestimate the powers of the juniors! We really contributed much to the school and had a lot of fun doing it.

Like old-timers we successfully managed the Magazine Drive. One of our own juniors, Jim Friday, was vice president of Student Council. The entire student body enjoyed the talent we produced for our assembly program and the Jesters' Talent Hunt. George McClintock was the "one you can always depend on" whenever an accompanist was needed.

In early April we rehearsed many long hours for our play, "It's a Great Life," which was followed two weeks later by the Junior Prom. The whole class must have folded apple blossoms for a month!

This was the year of the annual immigration of the Ingramites and the resulting enlargement of our class. "The more the merrier", and this year has certainly been merry.

Our boys were right up there with the seniors in athletic activities, and the cheerleaders were just as peppy. Even the junior majorettes strutted and twirled as well as the 1956 graduates.

Our class rings branded us as the class of distinction among the sophomores and freshmen who gazed longingly at our newly-decorated fingers.

Three wonderfully happy years are behind us now. We are going into the home stretch of our high school career, anticipating those magic words that we juniors will hear next September at the first pep meeting, "Seniors first!"

May I have an admission slip?

What! no erasures?

Earnest Einsteins await the explosion.

Feeling a little superior this year, we walked with confidence and assurance in front of the freshman class. With an air of formality and dignity we attended the "Gridiron Glitter."

Yes, this has been a great year. We were first introduced to the mutilation and microscopes that are characteristic of biology class, the clatter and clang of the typewriter carriage, and the methods and miracles of first aid.

Our four male officers kept the sophomore ball rolling as the days slipped by. Our sophomore assembly broke the ice for the other three classes and was well received by both the upperclassmen and the faculty. Dave Secor displayed his talent as a comedian and an orator. We were delighted when the "Dreamtones" copped first prize in the Jesters' Talent Hunt, even though we weren't surprised.

Football and basketball games, the Canteen and many parties crowded our evenings with endless entertainment. Somehow they lessened the monotony of the same old classroom grind.

Now we are half way through our high school days; yet we are sincerely grateful that we can spend the other half here where we have found the best of friends and the most understanding of teachers.

Hey, Ann, how come?

Evaluation of principles leads sophomores to fuller life.

The four freshmen face the future.

Evaluation of the future guided the freshmen.

We've actually survived our crucial freshmen year. At first getting lost was just a joke; we knew there wasn't any elevator! But as the days grew greener, we grew less green and gradually became acclimated to Crafton High. The awe-inspiring seniors aren't quite so feared, or maybe we've grown up a little more during this year.

Our frosh five flew around on the gym floors and hurled enough shots through the hoops to win the section championship. Our freshman assembly rated cheers from all the upperclassmen who didn't know we had it in us. Marcia Chipp's dancing was a dazzling addition to the Choral Festival.

We all were initiated into the routine pattern of life at Crafton High—the creak of the pencil sharpeners, the telltale pink slip when you don't quite make it on time, the quest for a corner to conceal your lunch from curious cookie-snitchers, the wild stampede at 3:45.

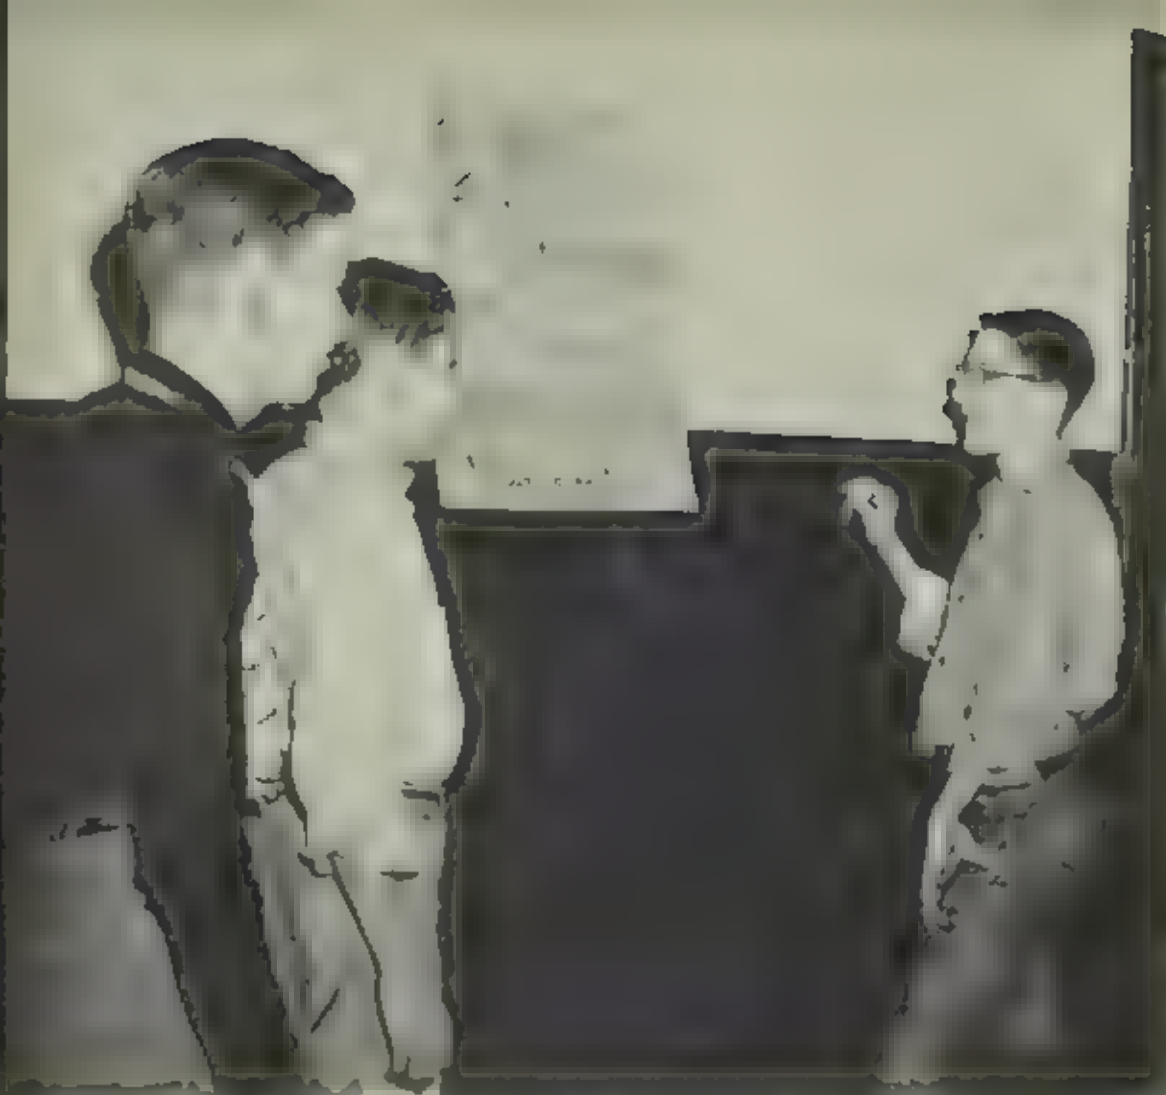

Yes, now we know what it's all about, and we look forward to three more years as joyous as our freshman one.

Frosh days are busy days.

Oh, my aching back!

BAND . . .

JOHN D. SMALL

Director

"Loyal and true-hearted" are the notes played by the Crafton High School band members as they swing, in perfect formation, onto the field for every football game. And who could be more loyal and true-hearted than the faithful band members who practice long hours in the summer and after school? Then, at game time, the instrumentalists and majorettes are always there, even in freezing or rainy weather, to cheer the team on.

At Halloween the band lends color and harmony to the big community parade. Crafton's Band is often asked to perform for other community activities, and they always respond with a fine show.

Hours of preparation precede the Spring Band Concert. This year, inclement weather forced the second night performance to be postponed for a week. The band members accepted gracefully this interruption in their concert. They came through with an even more spectacular show of musical brilliance and marching ability, and the majorettes displayed their twirling tricks.

So thanks to the band for their dependability, good sportsmanship, and talent. None of us will ever forget the touching beauty of our Alma Mater when Mr. Small struck up the Crafton High School Band.

VOCAL MUSIC . .

Miss Gayvert's excellent direction upheld, again this year, the fine reputation of the Crafton High School Chorus. Miss Gayvert had five choruses which were the "B" Girls, made up of Freshmen and Sophomore girls, the Boys' Chorus, the Mixed Chorus, the Mixed Ensemble, and the Madrigal group.

The first performance of the year was the American Education Week Program. For Christmas, a very beautiful service was given at the K. of C. for the Woman's Club of Crafton, and a part of that service was sung in a Christmas assembly at the high school. The Chorus' biggest achievement was the Choral Dance Festival which took many hours of rehearsing music, designing costumes, and painting scenery. Also, the chorus provided entertainment at a small Easter assembly, and sang a few selections for baccalaureate and commencement.

The chorus members, especially Miss Gayvert, devoted a lot of their time, including lunch hours, after school, and evenings, to make every performance a huge success. Many times the rehearsals were long and tiring, but the satisfaction of a job well done more than repaid the members for their hard work.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY . . .

A happy scene in the Sutton patio.

Congratulations to the Seniors for putting on such a wonderful class play. The play this year was a three-act comedy entitled "Henrietta the Eighth", which was expertly directed by Mr Schroth. During the performances on December 17 and 18, a well-trained cast carried the play along ably with Bert Panella and Ann Armstrong working behind the scenes as student director and prop girl.

The Stage Crew and those who painted scenery deserve a big hand for all their help.

Many afternoons and evenings were given up, but everyone thoroughly enjoyed being in it and was very sorry to see it come to an end.

Student directors consult with Mr. Perz.

Many long, hard hours of practice by Mr Perz, Faculty Director, and the entire cast went into the making of a sensational Junior Class Play.

The play was a three-act comedy, "It's A Great Life." Conflict was supplied by a hen-pecking aunt who caused a great deal of commotion in the Wilson household.

The cast crammed their practice sessions into the noon hours, after school, and in the evenings. They had a tough time learning their lines and memorizing their cues in time for the performances on April 12 and 13, but the Student Directors, Pat Green, Pat Ewing, and Paul Neal, helped the cast prepare. Janet McConnell and Pat Kossler were the prompters.

The scenery was in perfect order and the actors in top form when the curtain was finally rung up. All the frantic tension was then forgotten as the players received their first laugh. From then on, it was a success!

NEWS O'CRAFT

The News O'Craft is our school paper whose objective it is to highlight sports events and local news, and to bring entertaining features to the student body. It is published monthly, except during the football and basketball seasons, when it is put out weekly by the journalism class under the direction of Mr. Kiser. This year the staff sold Cougar Buttons to help offset expenses. The hardest working member of the staff was Ethel Kearns, the Editor in Chief, who edited the news page besides writing feature material for each issue.

THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Belonging to the National Honor Society and wearing the Society's pin is a remarkable honor. The members are chosen from the upper third of the senior class by the faculty, after a careful consideration of their activity record and such records as reflect Leadership, Citizenship, Character, and Service. The National Honor Society is sponsored by the National Education Association, and each member is to carry on the high standards set up by the Society.

Jim, Jack and Jo pilot the student government.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Student government educates us in democratic principles

The Student Council is the voice of the student body. It is made up of the presidents from each of the home rooms. The Council's objective is to seek solutions to all student problems, to promote school spirit and good citizenship, and to practice democracy through actual governing.

The Student Council is in charge of all assembly programs, election of Student Council officers, awarding of activity letters, and all activities that are carried on in affiliation with the school.

This year the Student Council sent Jo Pace and Jim Friday to the Western Pennsylvania Association of Student Council's convention held at Beaver Falls High School.

The Council's annual social event is the Football Dance held in honor of the school's football team.

Business and sports editors brush up on statistics.

The publication of the GINKGO is under the direction of Mr. Schroth. Marjorie Foliant and Ralph Wagoner were chosen as editors-in-chief by the faculty. The other editors and the staffs are composed of seniors who were elected from applications which they had submitted last year.

Blood, sweat, and tears" were shed by the harried editors, and headaches were shared by all but the co-operation of the whole staff made it possible for another GINKGO to reach the press. Sometimes it seemed like an impossible task to complete the picture taking, finish the write ups and identify all the members of the organizations. As our deadline approached, we worked feverishly, yet we had our humorous moments. Soon the pages of the dummy copy began to take shape and really look like a yearbook. We had made it!

We are glad that we have had an opportunity to work on the GINKGO. We hope that this yearbook in years to come, will become a valuable treasure of high school days and will bring back many cherished memories.

STAGE CREW

The stage crew was composed of a group of hard working boys who gave up many spare hours for the benefit of the school. These boys were always on hand when needed. Whether their work consisted of running the movie projector for a P.O.D. class, shifting scenery, taking down risers for Miss Gayvert, or planning a new lighting arrangement for a class play, these boys could always be depended upon. Often the stage hands would come early in the morning and stay past mealtime in the evening, just so a production would come off without any hitches. The stage crew deserves praise, for their efforts are too often unnoticed. Members: Sherwood Stevenson, John McCullough, Bob McCullough, Bill Sterling, and Charles Bailey.

MR. MARLIN B. WENRICH

The 1955 Cougars, piloted by Coach "Pop" Wenrich, posted an unimpressive one win, seven losses, and one tie record. Though strong in many positions, Crafton still lacked strength in many key spots on the team. Often outscored, the Crafton ball club was never outfought.

The Cougars started the season with their classic trip to Jeannette, but were defeated by the powerful Jayhawks in a hard-hitting game. Crafton started on the up grade by tying West Allegheny and defeating their key rival, Langley, in a sea of mud, but followed this rally with six consecutive defeats. The Cougars fell prey to Dormont, Bridgeville, Stowe, Elizabeth, McKees Rocks, and finally lost a heartbreaker to Carnegie to terminate the season.

With Cathy Talerico as their captain, the cheerleaders performed their routines with boundless energy. The squad was composed of three seniors and three juniors. Because of the grand job they did, we had many successful pep meetings. The cheerleaders bolstered the teams' morale throughout the season.

The frosh cheerleaders really jumped and shouted to let everyone know that their team really had something to yell about.

We were especially grateful to the cheering squads in this year of evaluation because they were the ones who helped us take stock of our school spirit. Through their efforts we have kept Crafton's competitive sports' tradition alive.

"A" SQUAD

Crafton's hoopsters really went to town this year with 12 wins and 7 losses. Under the able leadership of Mr. Paul Derrickson, they racked up the points just like old pros.

Of the fifteen games played this year, nine were local league competitions.

The Craftonagers were defeated by Baldwin in the season opener, but whopped the Highlanders by five points in their return engagement. The Cougars bounced back into the race by upsetting Scott and Brentwood by considerable margins. Re-hits by Ketchum were attacked during their second game to even up our record with that rival. Our meeting five slugged Scott by a 60-point margin, a feat of which they were understandably proud. We again ground Brentwood with opening ease but finished the season with a smashing defeat by our ace rival, Crafton.

At all times Derrickson's boys had a good season even though it was interspersed with a few defeats. We were glad to see the spirits of our boys regardless of victories or defeats. Crafton can well be proud of their good sportsmanship which was exhibited at every game.

"B" SQUAD

The junior varsity played exceptionally well throughout the season. They never failed to give that added boost or that extra shot when it was needed. Often when the game appeared to be on the rocks, five of those cagers rushed in with a barrage of baskets. Nothing could stop these boys once they got started, and we hope to see most of them next year. The top six were Leber, Zivic, Montgomery, Julia, Rock, and Thomas.

FRESHMEN BASKETBALL TEAM

The Little Cougars under the guidance of Mr. Paul Kmetz easily walked off with the section honors. The team finished the season with a 13-0 record. Bucky Pope, Don Breen, Tom Johnson, Bob Rea, and Bob Kincheloe composed the starting five.

BASEBALL

*Crafton's boys are demons

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

These fine boys, along with Mr. Keefer, gave up much of their time to sell tickets for the football and basketball games. Without these boys Crafton would have been handicapped because of their sparse cheering section. The Athletic Association kept school spirit flaming by trying to increase the attendance at all games. They deserve credit for a thankless job well executed.

BASEBALL

Though the Cougars lost some key men due to graduation, the squad is expected to come through in fine shape. Five returning lettermen will give the team the needed experience and will steady the newcomers to the team. The battery will be formed by Breen and Secor. Hollerich at second will aid confidence to the infield while Dodd and Bayer will shine in the outfield.

A lardy turnout insures a good season—out of this group came a nifty nine.

Class Song

The games we've won, the laughs and cheers,
The things we've done, these past four years,
We will have these moments to remember.

Commencement Day, has come so fast,
And, now, our Senior Year has past,
But we'll have these moments to remember.

Though the time has come to part,
And to friends we bid good-bye,
We'll keep within our hearts,
Dear thoughts of Crafton High.

Though we'll be gone, our separate ways,
We won't forget our high school days,
For we'll have these moments to remember.

(To the tune of)
"Moments to Remember"

Barb Voye, 1956

Alma Mater

Loyal and truehearted,
Let us boost for Crafton High.
We revere her and defend her
As her colors proudly fly.
We will stand for her united:
Of her deeds we'll gladly tell,
Her colors streaming,
Bright faces beaming,
So here's a cheer for her
That we all love so well.
Joyous and ever loyal,
Let us boost for Crafton High;
Let every heart sing;
Let every voice ring;
There's no time to grieve and sigh.
It's ever onward, our course pursuing.
Let defeat ne'er our ardor cool;
But united we will boost for her—
Our Crafton High!

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS
